

TOBACCO GRADING DEMONSTRATIONS

To Be Given in Mason County Next Week

Mason County is fortunate enough to have secured a specialist on tobacco grading from the Kentucky Experiment Station and also one from the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association. Our readers have no doubt been reading for some time of the demonstrations which are being held over the Burley district, and are more or less familiar with what experts are doing. In order that Mason County might get as good service as any other county in the State, the Bank of Maysville undertook sometime ago to obtain demonstrations of this kind for Mason County. That bank was advised today by the Director of Extension Work that these experts will be sent here for four days next week—December 6, 7, 8 and 9. A program is now being arranged for the demonstrations and as far as has been determined at this time, they will be held in four precincts, as follows: Dover and Germantown on December 6; Sardis and Mayslick on December 7; Lewisburg and Orangeburg on December 8; Washington and Plughtown on December 9.

These demonstrations will be free for every member of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association and it will certainly be worth the time spent if every member of the pool, whether landlord or tenant, will give them his close attention, for upon the proper stripping and sorting of their tobacco will greatly depend the price. The tobacco crop this year is of good quality and in order to obtain the best price, it should be properly handled by the growers.

Further announcement will be made as soon as it has been arranged as to the time and in which barns the demonstrations will be held.

FIRST NEWS FROM FAMILY TELLS OF BABY'S DEATH

New Manager of Steel Store Informed This Morning of Very Sudden Death of Only Child at Wilmington Home.

Newly made friends sympathized Saturday morning with Mr. Harrison B. Peoples, new manager of the L. H. Steel Company's department store, who was shocked to receive from his wife a telegram announcing the death of their only child, thirteen months old.

Mr. Peoples arrived in Maysville just a week ago today to succeed Mr. Clarence Olson as manager of the local Steel store. He left his family at his home in Wilmington, Delaware, well and happy. He had not received a message from his family since he had been in Maysville until the sad telegram from his wife Saturday morning.

Mr. Peoples will leave this afternoon for Wilmington. The message announcing the death of his little son, Harrison Samuel, gave no particulars but it was very sudden or he would have been advised of the child's illness.

PROBE OF SCHOOL SITE SELECTION IS PROMISED

Colvin Tells the Western Kentucky Teachers He Will Make Investigation.

Paducah, Ky., Dec. 1. — George Colvin, state superintendent of public instruction, speaking to more than three hundred school teachers of the Purchase, today, pledged his influence to get to the bottom of the western normal school question.

Without reflecting upon the people of Calloway county, "who in good faith pledged their money and time that their children might enjoy this educational advantage," Mr. Colvin assured the district association that he would investigate the location of the school thoroughly.

"I pledge you that if there be corruption and if it be possible to discover it, I will uncover it and bring it to the light," he asserted.

He warned against ill-timed or hasty action on the part of the state or any group, stating that such action might mitigate against the early attainment of the school's educational benefits, and delay its opening.

BROWN COUNTIAN RETURNS HOME AND USES REVOLVER

Chris Shie Finds Man at His Home and Uses His Gun Wounding Intruder As He Escapes Through The Gate.

Georgetown, Ohio. — When Sheriff Neu was called from his slumber about 11:30 o'clock Friday night by a telephone alarm, he heard a man's voice at the other end of the line, which informed him that the speaker was Chris Shie, missing Jackson township citizen, whose disappearance from his home there a few weeks ago caused general alarm.

Shie told Sheriff Neu that he was returned. The sheriff informed him that he was glad to know the fact. And then Shie asked that Sheriff Neu come to his home at once, that he believed he had shot one Jeff McElfresh and that he was afraid to return to his home. Sheriff Neu advised Shie to return home, and that he would appear there in the morning.

The next morning Sheriff Neu and Prosecutor Bagby went there. They gathered from Shie that he had come to Macon the night before on the Norfolk and Western and walked to his home. Peering through a window he observed McElfresh asleep in a room. Shie entered and asked what he was doing there. Not receiving a satisfactory answer, he ordered McElfresh from the house. McElfresh left hurriedly by a door, and his manner was such that Shie followed. As McElfresh went through a gate he made a move, Shie says, which caused Shie to believe that he was attempting to shoot. Shie snatched a .38-caliber revolver he carried. The second time it was discharged. He heard McElfresh give a cry as in pain. Shie fired again but McElfresh disappeared in the dark running.

During the conversation held by Sheriff Neu with Shie, Dr. Paul, of Russellville came upon the line. He informed Shie that he would look after McElfresh.

Dr. Paul found McElfresh at the house of Roy Brooks. Examination revealed that the carried a bullet, which had entered his breast. Tracing its course, it was found lodged in the back, where it was removed.

Members of the Brooks family were anxious that McElfresh be removed, and an automobile was ordered. When this was ready it was found that McElfresh had, unassisted, gone to his home in the neighborhood.

When the Sheriff and Prosecutor questioned McElfresh he made a statement that upon the return of Shie, Shie had sent for him and it was then that he was shot. When asked how his personal effects happened to be found at the Shie home, explanation was offered that after the disappearance of Shie he had taken up the responsibilities of looking after the farm work.

"SHEEP" WHITE TAKEN UP AS PAROLE VIOLATOR

Maysville Colored Man Had Been Forging Reports to Parole Commission, Says Officials.

Upon request of the state prison authorities, local police Friday evening arrested William "Sheep" White, local colored man, on a state warrant charging him with parole violation.

It is learned that White, who was sentenced to a penitentiary term in the Mason Circuit Court several years ago, was granted a parole in 1920 with the understanding that he was to work on the farm of a certain Mason county farmer. This farmer was to send regular reports to the Parole Commission upon White's behavior. These reports had been coming regularly but recently, it is said, a state inspector dropped in on the farmer to talk over White's case face-to-face. It then became known that the farmer had never seen White and had not signed the several reports sent to the state prison authorities.

Immediately upon this report being made to the commission, White's arrest as a parole violator was ordered. He will be returned to Frankfort to complete his term. White was convicted on a charge of grand larceny in connection with the robbery of a tobacco grower at the Liberty warehouse about five years ago.

KENTUCKY NOW IN GRIP OF WORST DROUGHT IN YEARS

Reports to Louisville Newspaper From All Sections of Kentucky Show the State Drier Than in An Entire Half Century Before.

The Louisville Courier-Journal Saturday says:

Kentucky is now in the throes of the worst drought in nearly fifty years, according to reports from all sections of the state.

In the mountains of Eastern Kentucky forest fires are raging and the air throughout the section is pungent with the odor of burning trees and underbrush. Practically all the small streams are dry and larger ones are mere brooklets compared to their size at this time of the year.

The central section of the state is suffering. In several towns the reservoirs are dry and pipe lines are being laid to rivers miles distant. The rainfall in Fayette county during the months of November was only .38 of an inch. The normal fall is 3.48 inches.

Western Kentucky presents practically the same conditions, although not as bad as the other sections.

Farmers throughout the state are hauling water. Many of the rivers are at a low ebb.

Although now late in the fall the situation is unabated, thereby presenting one of the oddest freaks of the weather man.

MAYSVILLE LOSES BOTH GAMES IN BASKETBALL.

The Maysville High School basketball teams made a bad start Friday night at the local gymnasium when girls and boys teams representing the Sardis High School defeated the local teams. The girls' score was 16 to 5, and the boys' score 6 to 2. There was much interest and many present to witness the games.

NINE YOUNGSTERS INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECKS

Give Fictitious Names at Harrison County Hospital—Only One Seriously Wounded in Wreck.

Cynthiana, Ky., Dec. 1.—Nine young people, three girls and six boys, have been brought or have come to the hospital here Thursday night and today suffering from injuries received in automobile accidents on the road between Paris and Cynthiana.

While names have been given, it is not believed the names are really those of the patients, practically all of whom had left the hospital today.

One young man, who gave his name as Cunningham, of Lexington, was still under treatment this afternoon. Hospital attaches said they did not think his name was Cunningham. He has severe bruises about the head, but is not seriously hurt.

It was thought at the hospital, it was said, that all the patients save "Cunningham" would be able to leave this afternoon.

Most of the night at the hospital was spent in "patching up" the victims it was said today.

The report is the injuries were received in a general collision of automobiles as crowds of young people were going home from social gatherings at which they had been guests.

Mrs. Riley M. Galtner will have a sale of hand-painted novelties and other attractive gifts December 7, 8, and 9, at the real estate office of T. L. Ewan & Co., No. 48 West Second street.

FIRE SWEEPS CITY MAKING MORE THAN 1,000 HOMELESS

Two Million Dollar Loss in Fire Which Swept North Carolina City This Morning—Factory Section Swept.

Now Bern, N. C., Dec. 2.—More than a thousand persons are homeless here today and $2,000,000 worth of property lies in ashes as the result of a fire that burned its way through twenty blocks of this city, and was brought under control only through the combined efforts of the firefighters of this and four other cities. More than 300 homes in the residence section were destroyed, as well as an overall factory, a tobacco warehouse, stores and other structures. The open space of a cemetery saved the central business section.

Warehouses, churches, the Y. M. C. A. and scores of residences were offered as shelter last night, for the homeless, but hundreds were compelled to spend the night in the open. State troops are patrolling the devastated area today and the local chapter of the Red Cross is aiding in the care of the sufferers.

BABY FAUL DIES.

Ida Pearce Paul, bright little two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Paul, of the county, died early Saturday morning at the home of the parents after an illness of only a few days of pneumonia. Funeral at the Germantown Christian church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial at Germantown.

GOVERNOR PARKER AND THE KU KLUX KLAN

The nature of the threat against constitutional methods and orderly government in the United States involved in the organization and operations of the Ku Klux Klan has never been so distinctly revealed as in the visit of Governor Parker, of Louisiana, to the White House, and his statement of the case following his long interview with the President.

The situation in Louisiana must indeed be serious when a man of Mr. Parker's character and ability and resolution feels impelled to take the case directly to the President and to arrange, when the crisis comes, for the government aid which may be required.

The attorney general has announced that the agents of the government are alive to the conditions and that a sharp lookout is being kept, and that while the governor of Louisiana seems able at this time to control the situation, the co-operation of the federal government will not be withheld whenever federal interests are involved, or outside assistance is required.

The statement of Governor Parker, prepared at the White House, declared:

"The responsible government of the state is determined that regardless of cost or consequences, a most thorough investigation will be made of the outrages reported to have been made by the Ku Klux Klan in Louisiana.

"Certain terrorizing outrages have been committed, certain horrifying crimes have been reported, and it is vital that responsibility shall be fixed and offenders punished, not because of any organized association but in spite of this.

"The law of state and nation must be upheld under any and all circumstances."

In a letter to the Washington Post the governor in protesting again the report that the state was powerless to grapple with the "Invisible Empire" which has usurped its prerogatives and defies its authority, says: "Masked men and invisible empires have no place in America. I have denounced the Ku Klux Klan as vigorously as I knew how in its own strongholds. We have only begun to fight this movement, which strikes at fundamentals of orderly government. We will be able to rid Louisiana of this vicious development the more quickly if we can have the help of other states and of the federal government."

The Leader pointed out long ago that no matter how good the motives and intentions of many of those who have promoted or supported this movement, it is not only wrong in principle but dangerous in tendency under a system of government such as ours and in a country in which the spirit of tolerance is a prime essential, and in which class feeling and racial prejudice, if permitted to develop without restraint will literally destroy the solidarity of the nation and bring the whole great experiment of popular government down in tragic ruin.

Such a society as the Ku Klux Klan, hooded and masked and working secretly, cannot, but fall, eventually, into the hands of unworthy, reckless, and desperate men and breed the terrorism which, as Governor Parker declares, hold communities in all parts of Louisiana in its grip.—Lexington Leader.

WILSON WILL "COLLOQUE."

Here is a good one on Woodrow Wilson. Immediately after the election, the former President wrote a letter of congratulation to Edwards of New Jersey, who had been elected to the Senate, and expressed his pleasure that Edwards is to be a Washingtonian. "We can then colloque on events to our hearts' content," said the former Princeton professor, probably rolling that unusual word under his tongue as he dictated it to a stenographer. But an alert newspaper man has looked up the definition of the word and found the following: Colloque—to converse; to hold a colloquy; to confer secretly, especially with mischievous intent; to talk confidentially with suggestion of plotting; to use flattery and deceit; to wheedle. "Colloque" may find frequent use in the future, and to the discomfiture of Mr. Wilson, who revived it.

COMMENT

Turkey Day brought an end to the football season for 1922. There was more interest in football in Maysville this year than there has been in years. This is due to the fact that the Maysville High School had a team. Interest in the game will grow in the same proportion that the local varsity develops.

Of course, if there was going to be a wreck on the C. & O. in this division, it would not happen until the night before a holiday and thereby knock a great many out of their turkey dinner with relatives in other cities.

Santa Claus is very much in evidence in Maysville just now. The local stores are beginning to take on a holiday attire and toys are being put on the counter. Little folk will be on the anxious seat now for a month and the excitement will grow greater with every day.

John Ringling, the circus man, announces that he will join with the Billboard, of Cincinnati, in their effort to clean up the circuses and carnivals dropping fakes and gambling outfits. If the carnival crews which have been making Maysville for the past few years discard all questionable attractions and games, there will be little left.

In casting about for a Christmas gift for your loved one who has gone away from home, we call your attention to a year's subscription to the Public Ledger. The Ledger is recognized as Maysville's local newspaper. A letter from home every day in the year would be a mighty fine Christmas gift. See us about it.

Nicholas county, which has been second to our little neighbor Robertson in law observance, breaks onto the front page of the newspapers with a murder story. It's unusual too, in that a woman slays another woman. The story might have had a much longer run on the front pages had the principals been of opposite sex and had the space writers in that section been able to work up the possibility of an "Eternal Triangle."

The Third Street M. E. church was well filled Thanksgiving Day with Maysvillians expressing their thankfulness for the Almighty Father's goodness. Maysvillians have so much to be thankful for that everyone who could possibly attend service should have attended. In this event, every church in the city would have been well filled.

Our Dairy Poem

WE TWO

We two make home of any place we go;

We two find joy in any kind of weather;

Or if the earth is clothed in bloom or snow,

If summer days invite or bleak winds blow?

What matters it if we two are together?

We two, we two, we make our world our weather.

We make two banquets of the plainest fare;

In every cup we find the thrill of pleasure;

We hide with wreaths the furrowed brow of care

And win to smiles the set lips of despair.

For us life always moves with lifting measure;

We two, we two, we make our world our pleasure.

We two find youth renewed with every dawn;

Each day holds something of an unknown glory.

We waste no thought on grief or pleasure gone;

Tricked of life's Hope, Time leads us on and on,

And thrums upon his harp new song or story;

We two, we two, we find the paths of glory.

We two make heaven here on this little earth;

We do not need to wait for realms eternal.

We know the use of tears, know sorrow's worth,

And pain for us is always love's rebirth.

Our paths lead closely by the paths eternal;

We two, we two, we live in love eternal.

—Anon.

What's Wrong With The Women?

You're going to see one of the finest motion pictures ever made when you see "WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE WOMEN." Aside from its richness of production, aside from its wonderful cast which has never been equalled in any picture (see names below) you're going to see a picture that will hold you spellbound and that will give you an evening of the finest entertainment you ever enjoyed when you see Daniel Carson Goodman's amazing production, "WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE WOMEN!" Included in the cast are such brilliant stars as Wilton Lackaye, Mrs. De Wolf Hopper, Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein, Constance Bennett, Montague Love, Julia Swayne Gordon, Barbara Castle, Rod La Roque, Paul McAlister, Huntley Gordon and that remarkable child actress Little Helen Rowland. We recommend this picture to you as one of the finest you will see this season.

Where can we find it—this bluebird of happiness, ever so elusive and always so hard to hold once we do clasp it tightly to our breasts. Jack Lee felt it was his for all time. In his little city home there was a wife to face the world with him, and with him to battle through to Success. There was a child who meant everything. And there was a home to keep—a prize well worth the struggle.

Almost before he knew it the change came. His wife was different; there was deception in her manner and in her vague excuses. She had become a bosom companion of an unscrupulous lous woman who lived across the hall. Mrs. Neer, she called herself, and she preached independence and freedom to the young wife. She brought a young millionaire into Mrs. Lee's life, and with him came midnight suppers, afternoon teas, and an extravagance that made Jack's existence a constant worry. The bluebird that he had captured was lost.

Jack was employed by James Bascom, a wealthy architect. Bascom also had puzzled about the modern woman. His daughter Elise was the modern girl. Cigarettes, flasks, rouge, all night parties, and a love of luxury seemed to be her main purpose in life. The only other purpose was marriage—to enough money. She had chosen James Beldin, the same millionaire whose attentions to Mrs. Lee were now becoming insistent; spurning the love of a man who offered only a simple home and a pure heart.

Meanwhile Mrs. Lee, surrounded by a band of parasites, blinded by the false glare of their hectic social gatherings; intoxicated by their extravagances and luxurious tastes, came near to ruining her husband. And Jack, asking for more money to keep pace with his wife's demands, finds himself jobless and almost penniless.

Only when death threatens their little child does the mother instinct and wife instinct rise in Mrs. Lee. She is awakened as if by a dazzling light to see her folly. The silly puppets who she thought were offering her life had instead taken from her love and in its place left an emptiness that tore her very heart.

MRS. LULA VARN FULTON, ARK.

Suggests to Suffering Women the Road to Health

Fulton, Arkansas.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a soreness in my side. I would suffer so badly every month from my waist down that I could not be on my feet half the time. I was not able to do my work without help. I saw your Vegetable Compound advertised in a newspaper and gave it a fair trial. Now I am able to do my work and don't even have a backache every month. I cannot praise your Vegetable Compound enough and highly recommend it to those who have troubles like mine. I am willing for these facts to be used as a testimonial to lead all who suffer with female troubles, as I did, to the right road to health."—Mrs. LULA VARN, Box 43, Fulton, Arkansas.

In this sort of praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, given by word of mouth and by letter, one woman to another, that should cause you to consider taking this well-known medicine, if you are troubled with such symptoms as painful periods, weak, nervous feelings, miserable pains in your back, and cannot work at certain times. Here is a woman who is so grateful and glad to be relieved from a painful and nerve-racking physical condition that she wishes to tell all sick women.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeannie Price

New York.—"Purring" may be, after all, one of woman's most advisable occupations. It is credited with getting Miss Jeanne Bonar, a Russian immigrant, past the Ellis Island barriers. One immigration official said of Miss Bonar, who is called, "the loveliest stowaway who ever landed in the United States." "We're only human and she just seems to purr her way through."

It is a constant complaint that women no longer add "Miss" or "Mrs." before their names, and that consequently in writing a business letter to a strange woman, one never knows how to address her. One large New York firm has solved the problem by the ingenious adoption of a telegraphic prefix, "Ms." This designated equally well a matron or a maid, and while it may not look impressive, it is going to save much indignation on the part of those who would be wrongly addressed and who always blame the other person for not knowing their matrimonial state.

Another historic piano is on its way to New York. This one, the most famous of all. It is the piano presented to Richard Wagner by Ludwig, King of Bavaria, and upon which most of the Ring music was composed. The prized possession of the great composer was discovered by an American soldier, Robert H. Prosser, of New York, who was with the American Army of Occupation in Germany. He came upon it in a tiny drawing room of Berlin, the property of an aged music teacher, Theobald Guenther, to whom it was presented half a century ago.

"The Springtime of Youth," at the Broadhurst Theater, is one of the most delightful musical shows of the season. It really gives one "springtime" and "youth." The voices of the principals and choruses are unusually good and the music is lovely—a better standard than we look for in the average musical comedy—or at least, better than we did look for up to a season or so ago. It is lasting melody without being trite or too light.

The photographers' shops down around Fourteenth street, patronized largely by our foreign population are as interesting as any places in New York, I think. We are accustomed to thinking of men as having a constitutional dislike of being photographed. Evidently, that is only an American trait. There are Italians, I found, who drop in every week or two to have a new picture taken, and the Hungarians are not far behind. It is a serious part of life with those foreigners, and they go at it with a will. One photographer explains that many of the men never will accept a photograph unless all five fingers show. They send the pictures back to Europe and if only three fingers are in evidence, their families are afraid they have met with an accident. Their children must always be photographed full length, too, so that the old folks back home will know they are not cripples.

No longer can Americans be accused of materialism. They are becoming artists, thoroughly and completely says Frank Alvy Parsons, director of the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts. Their food, their shelter, and their clothes are now all submitted to artistic dictates, he tells us. They used to eat, he says, because they were hungry; live in houses because of inclement weather; and buy new clothes because their old ones were shabby. "Recently, however, the great middle class that makes up the backbone of the nation," declares Mr. Parsons, "has awakened to a new craving. It has been seeking to give expression to that instinct which leads the savage to decorate the vessel from which he eats. Americans now want their houses and clothes and everything about them to be beautiful."

HEAVIER WINTER LOADS ON HARD-SURFACED ROADS.
Frankfort. — Joe S. Rogers, state highway engineer, has sent out communications to all county judges advising them of the provisions of the load limit act passed by the 1922 General Assembly and specifying the types of road on which the limit may be increased fifty per cent. during the period from December 15 to April 1. The high type construction roads which allow the increase are brick, concrete, rock asphalt, penetration tar and surface treated macadam.

HELPTHE OLD FOLKS

A Helping Hand Extended to Many Old People in Maysville. The infirmities of age are many. Most old people have a bad back. The kidneys are often weak. Or worn out with years of work. Backache means days of misery. Urinary troubles, nights of unrest. Doan's Kidney Pills have helped to make life easier for many.

Charles Kennan, retired farmer, 81 Wood street, Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills several different times within the last few years and never had them fail to do me good. My kidneys were in bad shape. The secretions were unnatural and burned terribly in passage. My back kept me in misery during the time the attack lasted and I was feeling generally run down. I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got a couple of boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. Doan's reached my case at once and cured me up in good shape. I have always relied upon Doan's since and a few now and then regulate my kidneys and keep them in good condition." Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kennan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

COVER CROPS SAVE SOIL ON THOUSANDS OF ACRES.

Lexington, Ky. — Reports already received from 16 counties of the state indicate that cover crops this winter will stop soil washing and the leaching away of plant food on thousands of acres of Kentucky farm lands, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils specialist of the College of Agriculture. Despite the fact that this is only the second year in which an intensive cover crop campaign has been put on in the state the acreage of such crops has made a substantial increase.

In 14 of the 16 counties, farmers have started demonstrations involving close to 19,000 acres of rye alone to show their neighbors how fields can be protected from washing during the winter. This rye not only will prevent soil erosion and leaching losses on the various farms but also will furnish fall, winter and spring pasture and make a good residue to plow under for green manuring purposes, thereby putting humus into the soil. Barley also has proved popular as a cover crop, seven counties reporting demonstrations involving 2,300 acres. Barley, like the rye, will protect the soil, furnish grazing and in many cases make a grain crop that can be put on demonstrations this harvested next spring.

Farmers in nine counties of the state winter to show the value of crimson clover as a cover crop. This crop makes a good winter legume but in many cases farmers have found it hard to get a stand of it that would go through the winter. Four hundred and sixty acres of it are being grown in the demonstrations. Farmers in eight counties have demonstrations under way to show the value of vetch as a winter cover crop. They are growing 300 acres of this crop. Vetch is hardier and more reliable than sweet clover but the price of seed is almost prohibitive. Rye and vetch commonly are grown together.

Seven counties report demonstrations involving 3,300 acres of winter oats while alfalfa and sweet clover are being used for cover crops in other counties. Wheat also will protect the soil on thousands of acres this winter although this crop usually is harvested for grain. Counties that already have reported on the acreage of cover crops seeded are Marion, Allen, Jackson, Grayson, Lawrence, Breckinridge, Morgan, Owsley, Union, Jefferson, Harlan, Calloway, Fleming, Meade, Campbell and Madison.

STANDARD STOCKHOLDERS TO PASS ON INCREASE.

Louisville. — Announcement of a special cash dividend of $5 a share, in addition to the regular quarterly cash dividend of $1.25, and of a proposition to increase the capital stock of the company from $12,000,000 to $17,000,000 with the declaration of a 66-2-3 per cent. stock dividend to follow was made following a meeting of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky. The proposition to increase the capital stock of the company will be submitted to stockholders at a meeting to be held here December 21.

SOMERSET WOMAN DIES IN AUTO-TRAIN ACCIDENT.

Louisville. — Mrs. Mable Moran, 30, of Somerset, Ky., was killed when an automobile in which she was riding was struck by a train near Greensboro, N. C., according to a special dispatch. She is survived by a son, 14.
